

The Reif Arts Council advocates for the arts as a critical part of education. During the COVID-19 pandemic, this mission is extra important. Reif Education Virtual Field Trips provide access to powerful and enriching performance experiences for classrooms and distance learners across the region, regardless of physical location. A line-up of shows, approximately one-hour in length, for students of all ages. Streamed LIVE from the Myles Reif Performing Arts Center and available on-demand after the performance for 14 days. These events are offered at a highly reduced price on a per-school basis. Performances are best viewed on a Smart Board, Smart Television, Smart Device, or computer. Broadcast in 1080p HD. Study guides and curriculum materials are available for select shows.
